

Busse Family to Celebrate Ninety Years in America

Reunion At Elk Grove Sunday For 1051 Living Descendants

Ninety years ago, July 3, 1848, the Busse family established its first home in America at Elk Grove. The living descendants, numbering 1051 will gather at the Elk Grove forest preserve Sunday afternoon in what will be one of the largest family reunions ever held in northern Illinois. The site of the celebration is within a mile of the Busse homestead where the pioneer located in the year 1848. Within a radius of 25 miles there resides at least half of the descendants.

Four of the original Busse farms acquired by the children of the pioneer couple as they reached their majorities, are still in the families, being owned or occupied by descendants. These farms are located within a radius of four miles.

The family has previously celebrated the fiftieth and the seventieth anniversaries. The arrangement for the event of Sunday are in the hands of a committee from the fourth generation of which Wm. Busse, Jr., is chairman; the other members of the committee being Alfred Busse, William C. Willie, Fred W. Busse, Richard Tonne and August Decker.

Dr. O. C. Kreinheder, president of Valparaiso university will be the principal speaker on the afternoon program, starting at three o'clock. Dr. Kreinheder is a personal friend of the family and many Busses have attended the university.

Following the close of the regular services at St. John's church, Elk Grove, which was established ninety years ago, a short memorial service will be held in the adjoining cemetery at the grave of the pioneer couple.

The anniversary program at three o'clock, will include talks by three pastors, Rev. Gehrs, pastor of the Elk Grove church will talk on the religious faith of the Busse pioneers; Rev. Friedrich Zersen of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Itasca on the country to which the family came and Rev. J. E. Mueller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect on the Busse home. The two latter speakers are members of the Busse family.

Four Busses, representing the eldest of the four families will be introduced. They are Henry W. Busse, of Mt. Prospect, representing the Christian Busse family; Fred Busse, Marengo, Ill., representing the Henry Busse family; William Busse, of the Louis Busse family and Louis Busse, Jr., of Elk Grove of the Fred Busse family. These are all of the third generation. The family now extends to the sixth generation of which there are 104 members.

Mr. Fredrick Busse was born in 1800. His wife, Johanna Katz, was born three years later. Mr. Busse served his regular time in the Hanoverian army and was given his official release in 1823.

In the early 1800's land and property was considered so important in Hanover that the government required owners to keep their places in repair. Failure to do so meant that the government would sell the property to some person who was financially able to maintain the property. In such cases the government required that a certain recompense should go to the original owner.

It was under these conditions that Frederick Busse acquired the farm upon which a large home was erected by him, but the call of America was too strong for him. He wanted to go to a country where all of his sons could have the same rights and privileges. He had previously served his time in the army, and fulfilled all obligations to King George.

The six children were born in the old country. Their son, Henry, was the first one to come to America and it was he who later prevailed upon his father to bring the rest of the family to this land of promise. Henry first worked on a farm on Milwaukee avenue.

The Busse family arrived in this country, going to Detroit and from there to Chicago. They started out on Milwaukee avenue to find a farm that would appeal to them. They crossed the Des Plaines river at the Talbot Ford, near Touhy avenue. Marks of that Ford are today discernible at the present Miller bridge.

The family traveled on foot as far west as Hanover township. They did not like the clay hills over there and came back down the Indian trail, Algonquin road. In those days a tavern was established every day's journey from Chicago. Upon reaching the Paige tavern in Elk Grove, Mr. Paige learned through his German maid that the emigrants who were staying over night at his inn, were looking for a farm. He offered to sell it. It did not take long to come to an agreement.

Cub Packs To Be Formed In Arlington

There has long been a need for the organization of Cub Packs for boys from the ages of 9 to 12, in Arlington Heights.

Some few interested parents have been busy the past few weeks and it looks now, as if the need is to be fulfilled.

Two committees, one from the North Side and one from the South Side have been formed and anyone desiring full particulars, should get in touch with them as soon as possible. The list is as follows:

North Side—Charles Scherf, 635 N. Belmont, tel. 93-J; Guy Baxter, 204 E. Euclid, tel. 677-J; W. H. Dick, 415 N. State road, tel. 153.

South Side—L. E. Aldrich, 304 W. Wain; Robert K. Blackburn, 524 S. Highland, tel. 397-W; Clifford Schapinski, 132 S. Highland; Dr. A. B. Magnus, Central road, tel. 18; Leonard A. Des Jardine, 419 So. Vail, tel. 644-R.

These men have registration cards and will be glad to give full particulars to all interested parents. The Cub work is in conjunction with the Boy Scouts of America and gives the younger boy an opportunity to become familiar with the Boy Scout activities earlier. Boys cannot become regular scouts until they are 12 years of age. A Cub will make a better scout of your boy.

Red Wings Are Rained Out Again

Rain played an important part in ruining the ball games over the week-end. The scheduled night game at Glenview had to be called off on account of wet grounds and the downpour Sunday caused a postponement of the game with Kenosha, Wis. The Red Wings and Glenview are bound and determined to play their night game if it takes all summer. If the weatherman doesn't interfere, the game will be played next Thursday, June 30. The entire program that had been planned for last Friday will be held next Thursday.

The Sunday game with Kenosha, Wis., was called off as early as Sunday morning. The heavy rain left the diamond a sea of mud, so it was impossible to play. We hope to have the Kenosha team here some time later this season.

Next Sunday, July 3, a strong team from Waukegan will be here. The Red Wings have played this team a couple of times before and they always give the Red Wings a good argument. So plan to be on hand at game time. Game will be called at 3 p. m.

On Monday, July 4th, the Red Wings will travel to Sycamore, Ill., to play the Anacosta team of that city. There seems to be quite a bit of rivalry between the Red Wings and Sycamore. Always somebody with a chip on his shoulder. So if any of our local fans wish to take a nice ride, and enjoy a hot ball game, come along to Sycamore on the Fourth.

On the 10th of July, Sycamore will play a return game here at Recreation Park, so you see the local boys will have their hands full for the next couple of weeks.

Don't forget the night game at Glenview Thursday night, June 30. Program starts at 8 p. m. See you all there.

Call Public Budget Meetings In All Schools

Under a recently passed school law a taxpayer has the opportunity to "speak his piece" regarding the school budget of his school district.

In keeping with the new law, the fiscal budget for the coming year has been posted in each school building of Wheeling township and public meetings have been called to give any taxpayer the opportunity to discuss with the board any of the budget items.

Due to the sale of the district 25 buildings, the budget for that district is on file at the office of the secretary, where any taxpayer may examine it.

The date of the budget meetings of all of the rural schools and district 26 has been set for July 8. The high school meeting will be held July 5.

Arlington Grade Pupil Wins Northern Illinois Violin Contest

Billy Bessemer, an eighth grade pupil in the Lutheran school, Arl. Heights, who took first place in the preliminary contest at Des Plaines some time ago, won out over all other violinists at River Forest recently.

Contestants were grammar school children from Northern Illinois, including Chicago. Every violinist who entered was judged on his playing of "Arietta" by Berzer.

Billy is a pupil of Mr. Henry Stein who has had classes in Arlington Heights for the past five years on Saturdays and Mondays.

States Attorney Learns About Use Of Slot Machine 'Take' For Civic Welfare In Arlington Heights

"Ancient History" Rehashed for Benefit Of Press Stories

The office of states attorney Courtney was surprised to learn last week that slot machines are in operation in Cook county and especially shocked to discover that the Arlington Heights village officials were applying the customary tribute to aid civic projects.

Slot machines in Arlington Heights have been placed in the local taverns during the racing season the past three years. The plea used by the syndicate the first year was that the visitors here for the races were the ones who spin the wheels of those machines. They suggested that the "cut" that usually fattens the pocketbooks of local officials in other towns, could be used in Arlington Heights for civic purposes.

At the time the firemen needed new hose, the village a new police car and a roof was needed on the grandstand at the ball diamond. There was also need of a tractor moving machine with which to cut the weeds about town.

The frequent call for these extra purchases for which the village budget held no provision, resulted on an "O.K." on the proposition.

The first year the money was paid over the counter at the municipal building and the audit made that year by E. F. Laurin, covered the transaction in a supplementary report. The next year the money passed into the hands of the chairman of the finance committee, but was used for similar purposes as during the first year, and of which a strict accounting was kept.

The worthiness of the projects that benefit by the money, meant nothing to a citizen of Stonegate, who threw a monkeywrench into the machinery by "tipping off" the states attorney office to something that had been known to the people at the conclusion that they get old faster up there than they do in Edison Park and Des Plaines.

The Des Plaines boys challenged the Arlington Heights boys and the Palatine Oldsters to a game of series of games, but to date have not had an answer so must arrive at the conclusion that they get old faster up there than they do in Edison Park and Des Plaines.

Three Escape With Lives As Auto Hits Train

Chas. N. Lewis, a race tracker, whose home is at 14821 Paulina avenue, Chicago, was traveling west on Euclid avenue, Arlington Heights Monday evening and did not see a freight train passing the street until he was almost upon the train. He turned his car in the direction the train was going, lost a fender, tire and bumper, which were neatly cut off.

Mr. Lewis was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bolton. All of the occupants of the car consider that their escape was as lucky as winning the daily double.

Sells Bonds To Pay Public Benefit

Cuts Appropriation By Deal With Bond Firm

The village of Arlington Heights at a special meeting Monday evening closed a deal with the Henderson Co. of Chicago, for the purchase by them of $55,000 of 4% bonds due in 20 years, but which are payable in part at the option of the village at interest bearing periods.

The money will be used to pay the public benefits outstanding against the village. A settlement made with Spencer White Co. provides that if payment of amounts due them is made within ninety days the village will save $15,000.

The immediate effect means that in place of levying $7,000 each year for public benefit, which amount can never be collected, the village will only need to levy $2,400, which in 20 years, will pay off both principal and interest. The receipt of public benefit funds in past due taxes will be credited to the account, which will permit the retirement of an increasing number of the bonds on some of the years.

Swimming In August Is Certain

Rush Field House; Swimmers Section To Be Done In 3 Weeks

Arlington swimmers can expect to be using the pool early in August. The recent strike caused a three week's delay in construction work, but 113 men are now busy on the project working in three shifts of fifty hours each. The shingles are now being laid on the last section of the roof, which work will be completed within a week. The stone coping at the entrance steps are being put in place. The basement ceiling is being finished and it is expected that workmen will have that section of the field house completed within three weeks.

At the suggestion of the state department of health, the number of showers in both sections has been increased to nine. Supt. Koerber has provided one cold shower for the fellows with hardy constitutions. The boilers are ready for operation and the pool will be filled very soon with water.

The main part of the building is still very much in the construction stage and should not be visited, but a view from the upper terrace in August will be worth all the waiting.

Workmen in the park are installing a cement curb around the crushed stone walks. New water service pipes have been necessary. A dump truck loaned by the village, is moving the huge pile of black dirt, preparatory to the locating of the swimming pool at that place.

The park board has authorized a sand beach around that pool, which will add to the enjoyment of the little tots.

Arlington Firemen's Dance Next Monday; Roastmaster Offered

Arlington Ballroom will be the scene of the Arlington Firemen's dance Monday evening. An electric roastmaster valued at fifty dollars will be given away.

Tickets are going fast at 45 cents a person. Dancing to Mel Borchardt's broadcasting orchestra will begin at nine o'clock. Everyone is promised a good time, (including race trackers).

A Friendly Tip

Visiting race track people are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to have fast, quick, efficient work done on their cars at Winkelman's Tire & Battery Shop. A big tire and tube sale is now in progress also. Prices are always reasonable at Winkelman's.

There is no person to whom I would rather dispose of my business. I want to thank the general public for the patronage they have accorded me in the past and I know that under the new ownership the store will be in a better position to serve you."

Gus Framberg purchased of the Perrin estate the store in 1927 and until his illness was active in community affairs, serving as alderman several years.

Rodewalds To Make Changes
The Rodewald Brothers, Marvin and Leonard, are probably as well known in Arlington Heights as any young man. As news dealers they have come in contact with eighty percent of the householders. They are making plans for changes in the store with the addition of new lines.

This store is ideally located, convenient to parking, in the heart of the business district, opens early in the morning and remains open until a late hour.

The Arlington Park officials are looking forward to a great outpouring of race fans over the weekend and are prepared to handle the crowds in their usual efficient manner.

Anyone who enjoys good racing can see the best in the land daily at Arlington Park and the week-end attractions offer the vacation fans a real treat.

'Dress Up Arlington' Is Business Men's Pledge

Scarsdale, Stonegate Pledge Support At Joint Meeting

Joint action in matters affecting their common community interests is now the aim of Scarsdale and Stonegate residents, according to a joint meeting held recently. At this meeting, the two representative associations discussed ways and means of consolidating their various committees to effectively meet current problems. The associations have also commended themselves to co-operating with existing business and other civic associations in Arlington Heights.

"We should expect a lot from these organizations; they lose their identity as isolated groups and become expressive factors in upbuilding the entire village."

Arlington Park Has Gala Opening

Arlington Park opened its thirty day race meet Monday in a blaze of glory.

Finest weather conditions of any Arlington opening prevailed, a big crowd was on hand to help usher in America's greatest summer meeting and a quarter of a million dollars poured through the mutual machines as the happy throng lustily backed their favorites with the necessary cash.

The track was heavy from the rains of the previous days, but outside of that conditions were ideal. Racing was spirited and each contest was hotly contested, the "lightning eye" being called upon several times to decide the placing of the horses.

Many new faces were seen at this year's opening, there are new owners, new trainers, new jockeys, and hosts of new race fans at Arlington this year.

The huge racing plant is becoming more beautiful each year as the trees and shrubs grow to full size and many fine compliments could be heard about the beauties of Arlington Park.

With a successful opening out of the way and with prospects for a fine meeting despite the "recession" Arlington Park goes into high gear over the week-end with true outstanding stake races on the card.

Saturday the "Matron" stakes will be contested and the entry list includes the fastest race mares in the country.

Monday, July 4, the famous Stars and Stripes handicap will be the feature and about every star handicap horse in the country has been nominated for the event and enough of them will be on hand to make a big field and to uphold all the traditions of that great race.

School To Be Finished By August 1

Cement Walks Laid To Building; To Decorate Interior

Perhaps the members of the board of education of the Arlington Heights elementary school have an excellent idea as to the appearance and convenience of the new school building that is nearing completion, but it was a pleasant surprise to the writer to discover Tuesday how remarkable a school building it is going to be.

The workmen have reached the stage where the cement walks outside of the building are being laid; the interior doors are being hung into place; decorators have shown the color scheme on one of the walls of a class room; the heating units are being put in place. The contract calls for completion August 10, and it appears that the schedule will be met.

The pupils will enter the school from both ends of the building, leaving the main entrance with its terrace approach for the visitor or school patron. The main entrance lobby is terrazzo. Individual metal lockers will be recessed along the hallway, the floors of which will be marbled tile.

One of the show rooms of that building will be the kindergarten decorated in cerulean blue. This room will be especially equipped for the needs of little tots. In keeping with modern education methods, the only blackboard space in the class rooms of the building will be on the front wall. All of similar space on the other walls will be of cork board. As Supt. Baker told his interviewer, "paper is cheap these days and the old time blackboards are in the discard. The cork board permits the exhibition of individual work of the pupils."

There is no waste space in the building. On each side of the entrance hall are the library and school office, each compact.

At the rear of the upper hallway are the teachers' room and the nurses' headquarters.

The hot water heating system in the building is outstanding and is of the very latest construction and one which is certain to attract attention among architects of public buildings. Its installation has saved the school district $2,000 and at the same time provides cleaner and fresher air for the rooms.

Encased in a neat enamel case before one of the windows of each classroom will be a combination heating and ventilating element for that particular room. The cool air is taken directly from outside, heated and passed into the room. There are no unsightly heating pipes through the building. Steam from the heating units comes from two boilers where the water is heated under pressure permitting a water temperature of as high as 250 degrees. Within ten minutes after the opening of the system on a zero morning, heat will begin flowing into all of the rooms. There are stokers for each boiler, both of which were taken from the old school buildings.

The method of heating operation will save at least 30% in heating costs, according to the estimates of the engineers.

The basement will be another show place of the school. The domestic science and manual training quarters will be there and they will be as finely equipped as to be found in any of the elementary school buildings. Between them will be the kitchen of the cafeteria, while in the center will be the serving counter where between 75 and 100 children can secure a hot noon day dish at a minimum of expense.

Almost one entire side of the basement is to be used as an auditorium, which will be ample for normal school functions and school gatherings of 300 or less.

It is a great school, folks. It will be ready for the starting of the fall term and with the jovial but earnest spirit of Mr. Baker extending to the teachers and the pupils, it is going to house a happy school that will instill more than just "book learning" to the boys and girls who enter its portals.

Postoffice Receives New 3-cent Stamps

Two new stamps were received this week at the local postoffice, one a commemorative, and the other a regular "three-cent" that will replace the one now in use. The picture of Thomas Jefferson will appear on the stamp instead of that of Washington.

The commemorative stamp is in honor of the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the states' ratification of the U. S. constitution in 1788. It was put on sale at the Philadelphia postoffice June 21. It was printed only in the 3-cent denomination.

The central design is a reproduction of a colonial type court-house with two horsemen in the foreground.

Modernized Depot, Entrance Pillars, Freight House Foreseen

The board of directors of Arlington Heights Trade and Civic Association adopted an extensive program Thursday night for the modernization of the business district, installation of entrance pillars on the highway, removal of advertising signs and a general program which will mean a general beautification of the entire town.

The plan has proceeded to such an extent that the erection of the pillars has been assured. An architect's sketch of the modernized depot is on display in the window of Krause & Kehe. A number of business men with signs facing the highway have offered to remove them and invitations are about to be forwarded to the heads of the various civic organizations in Arlington Heights asking for their cooperation in advisory capacity as well as active work in spreading the gospel of city betterment.

Mr. Hartford, of the Chicago Daily News, has assured the association that if success meets the present plans, that paper will carry word in a big way to the outside world of what Arlington Heights is doing.

The meeting Thursday evening was attended by all of the eleven members of the board of directors and also by representatives of Stonegate and Scarsdale, the two deluxe subdivisions of the town.

Mr. William Tackett, who is erecting many homes in Arlington this year, is one of the small groups who formulated the idea which was at once given added impetus by a quick response on the part of many business men and the general plan crystallized into active form last week.

The proposed pillars, of which architect's drawings were on display Thursday evening, will be built of stone,

DOINGS IN SCARSDALE

Bottom Drops From Honey Market in Scarsdale

While vacation out of town during the month, one Scarsdale family returned only to find that a friendly swarm of bees had taken over their home during the absence. The price of honey has reduced considerably, for this family at least.

One of the beneficial faculties of Arlington Heights Safety is apparent almost any evening around dinner time. Parents can be seen roaming about the subdivision rounding up their respective children. This is a tribute of confidence to Arlington's efficient Police Force, helping to reduce residential area speeds. The newly painted speed limits in the streets are a welcome asset.

The newest neighbors in Scarsdale are the family of William K. Baer, 533 Mayfair Rd. We welcome them with the usual friendly Arlington hospitality.

Returns From Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson of Des Plaines, as well as the Schaefer family of N. State road, Arlington Heights are rejoicing over the prospect of bringing the Dawson infant "Joy-Rose" home very soon from the lying-in hospital, Chicago, where it is being cared for in the Pre-Mature Nursery. The gloom that has been hanging over the household for the past four weeks is lifted.

He is survived by his wife and the following children, Mrs. Marie

Zimmer of Aptakisic, Dominic of Roscoe, and Marguerite, Nellie, and Elizabeth, all living at home, 1212 North State road; one son-in-law, one daughter-in-law, and five grand children.

Wheeling, Glenview Estates Heard In Probate Court

The late Joseph Stoll died intestate at Wheeling June 10, the probate court was informed, and left an estimated $9,000 estate to his only heir, his daughter, Lucille Andersen, of Wheeling.

The late Peter G. Johnson, who died April 5, in Glenview, did not leave a will for his estate of not over $20,000 in real estate. His heirs are his wife, Marie Johnson, of Glenview, a son, John J. Johnson, of Oak Park, and daughters living in Chicago, and El Reno, Okla. The son was appointed administrator.

Mrs. Dollydia Wells, of Des Plaines, was appointed executrix of the estate of her late mother, Mrs. Mary Meier, who died in Barrington May 12, leaving a $7,000 estate to be divided equally between her five children. Mrs. Louise Freye, another daughter, lives in Barrington. The three sons live in distant cities.

Evangelical & Reformed Church Meets

Two Churches Unite At Synod Meeting At Columbus, Ohio

On June 25, with but six dissenting votes out of 305 assembled delegates, the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in session at Columbus, Ohio, adopted a Constitution to become effective at the next General Synod in 1940.

With this action the union of the Evangelical Synod of North America and the Reformed Church in the U. S., effected four years ago and carried on under a temporary plan of union, is consummated.

A new hymnal and a Book of Worship are still to be passed upon at this session.

A General Council is set up to supervise and direct the work of the Church and act for the Church when the General Synod is not in session, except in such matters as are reserved in the Constitution and by-laws.

The doctrine of the Church is briefly stated in the following statement:

"The Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament are recognized as the Word of God and the ultimate rule of Christian faith and practice.

"The doctrinal standards of the Evangelical and Reformed Church are the Heidelberg Catechism, Luther's catechism and the Augsburg Confession. They are accepted as an authoritative interpretation of the essential truth taught in the Holy Scriptures.

"Whenever these doctrinal standards differ, ministers, members and congregations, in accordance with the liberty of conscience inherent in the Gospel, are allowed to adhere to the interpretation of one of these confessions. However, in each case the final Norm is the Word of God.

"In its relation to other Christian denominations the Evangelical and Reformed Church shall constantly endeavor to promote the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace.

"The sacraments of the Church, instituted by Christ, are Holy Baptism and the Lord's Supper.

"The rites of the Church are Confirmation, ordination, consecration, marriage and burial.

"The Lord's Day and the festivals and seasons of the Church year shall be observed with appropriate services in the House of God.

"The new Constitution provides for the following offices, ministers, teachers of theology, commissioned workers, elders, deacons. The judiciary are the consistory or church council, made up of elders and deacons, the spiritual council consisting of the pastor or pastors and elders, the Synod made up of all the ministers and one delegate from every charge within a designated territory and the General Synod as the supreme judiciary.

Administrative Boards as now constituted are to continue as heretofore, until they are merged in accordance with the provisions of the Plan of Union.

With the consummation of the merger, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, with over a million members will rank amongst the ten leading Protestant denominations in the U. S. The United Church now has over 2,500 pastors and over 2,900 congregations in 40 states of the nation. 48,000 teachers and officers assume the responsibility of training for Christian service the 600,000 pupils in the church schools that number above 2,700. There are 305 mission churches in the U. S. included in the merger. 223 missionaries labor in the five foreign mission fields located in India, Japan, China, Honduras, and Iraq. The Evangelical and Reformed Church has colleges and seminaries in India, China and Japan.

Three theological seminaries located at Lancaster, Pa., Webster Groves, Mo., and Plymouth, Wis., are included in the merger. Among the nine American colleges included in the merger are: Elmhurst, Cedar Crest, Hood, Franklin and Marshall and Heidelberg. Among the four Academies are: The Mercersburg Academy and Massanutten Academy.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church also provides over a score of benevolent institutions to take care of its aged, orphans and feeble-minded. Hospitals and Nurses' Training schools can be found in ten of the principal American cities.

During the summer season, twenty-five conferences, Camps and Summer Schools strategically located in every part of the nation are held to develop Christian leadership amongst the youth of the Evangelical and Reformed Church as well as provide valuable training for Christian teaching in the church schools.

The present President of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, and one who has been instrumental to a large degree to bring about progress in the consummation of the merger, is the Reverend Dr. George W. Richards of Lancaster, Pa. About twenty per cent of the membership of the Evangelical and Reformed Church reside alone in the state of Pennsylvania.

It Happened Here

She sang as she scattered her rose to the breeze,
Each petal a crimson stain;
June has a thousand blooms today
And love and youth laugh at pain.
He laughed as he kissed her kisses three
And whistled upon his way;
In his jaunty brim her rose he set
And doffed her a fine Good-day.

This is the season's enesura—some will call it the longest day of the year, but they have not been scanning June's verse. The rains are over, swallows are skimming the blue, and what was once just a back fence is now a bank of elderberry bushes in bloom, lacy and fragrant, and to make everything plus-perfect (tut, tut!) the cardinal gave us a whistle, and the oriole, silent so long, called on the old apple tree. Our world is a green cloister, its branches wide-springing to arch overhead cathedral wise, its memorial windows set with vivid spikes of blue delphinium, lemon lilies, evening primrose and trellised roses. June is burgeoning as never before; strange how nature never grows stale with her infinite variety—like Cleopatra, age does not dim her. Surely in past seasons these same fields and woods have been knee-deep in June, have been holding the promise of grain in rippling waves and been blithe with golden mustard, with patches of field daisies like pasturing sheep, and with sheaves of blue spiderwort; but today it looks like a new creation, perhaps as a blessed contrast to lands torn by war's havoc. When we visit the country side now, we are driven through lanes of incense from the sweet clovers, the mellots or hart's clover; the book says that this fragrance from the sweet clovers is a vanilla-like odor, a pleasing tho'; all we know is that when the soythe has laid it low, its lowliness is wafted to heaven on airs from the isle of spices; and when, with lifted face we breathe in these airs, the white clouds race us drawing the wain-shadows across fields and pastures and wooded hills.

Besides pitching a good game Johnny poled out 2 singles. Other players who obtained more than one blow were Al Kahling and Bub Granzin.

Gaare's Victors Over Buffalo
Lefty Sword was just too much of a pitcher and therefore Gaare won handily from Buffalo by a 5 to 1 score. Gaare was never behind and in the fifth salted the game away with a 3-run spurge.
Pete Tossman and Ray Lemke led Gaare's hitters with two singles apiece. Lefty's pitching was excellent, he allowed Buffalo but 2 hits and only 25 men faced him in the whole game.

Evergreens Trim Leo's Barber Shop
Leo's Barber Shop (formerly the Vogue), got one measly hit off of Johnny Angeloff and went down to defeat 4 to 0. H. Miller spoiled Angeloff's bid for a no-hit game by hitting a sharp single to left field in the sixth inning. Evergreen played errorless ball in back of Johnny. Besides pitching a good game Johnny poled out 2 singles. Other players who obtained more than one blow were Al Kahling and Bub Granzin.

Buffalo Wins From Evergreen
Buffalo garnered 6 unearned runs off of Evergreen Sweet Shop in the 5th and 6th innings and won by a score of 6 to 2. The outstanding feature of the game was the umpiring of "Dixie" (Magerkurth) Kehe.

Nick Herff pitched a steady game for Buffalo. Al Kahling hit a single and double for Evergreen's to continue his steady hitting.

Herff's fine brand of pitching in the clinches earned him a well deserved victory. Although outlived 5 to 5, Buffalo scored runners when they were in position. In the third stanza, they pushed across 4 unearned runs to put the game on ice. Heidorn infield fell apart in that frame and made 2 fielding errors and 2 mental errors.

Doug Milligan pitched a good game allowing but one earned run. Eddie Alten and "Big Stoop" Milligan got 2 hits apiece. In the seven games so far this season, G. Milligan is massaging the "ole apple" at a .577 clip. He's had 15 hits in 26 attempts.

ALL STARS PICKED

Arlington All Stars will play the Park Ridge Merchants at Des Plaines under lights at 8:30 p. m. next Tuesday. The Park Ridge team reached the semi-finals at Soldier's Field last year. Lefty Johnson, one of the best pitchers in Chicago, will pitch for Park Ridge. Last week Johnson pitched a no-hit game against Busse's Buick.

Members of the All Star team as voted by softball managers are: pitchers, Sword, Luerssen, Hayes, Nick; catchers, Sadecky, Weisberger; 1st base, Milligan, "Roy"; 2nd base, Lauterburg, Kouzmanoff; 3rd base, Laseke, Szasz; short stop, Meyer, Pingel; roving field, Granzin, Brodman; field, Balek, McKaig, Tossman, Lemke, Kelley, Colby, and Heinman.

Carefree Service Saves Time and Work...

Meter Test in Actual Home proves the Low Cost of Automatic Gas Water Heating

This water and gas meter check was made in the home of Mr. Fred K. Champlin, at 730 Wagner Rd., Glenview, over a 15-day period.
